

iHub: Your platform for productive generative AI in the enterprise

With iFinder and iAssistant, you can quickly find company information and receive permission-checked answers from your own data. With iHub, we are expanding our solution to include a ready-to-use platform for creative generative AI in the enterprise. Whether it's text optimization, translations, email creation or file analysis, iHub enables employees to complete typical tasks quickly and securely with the help of intelligent micro-apps – without any prompt knowledge.

iFinder, iAssistant and iHub – the AI trio for productive work

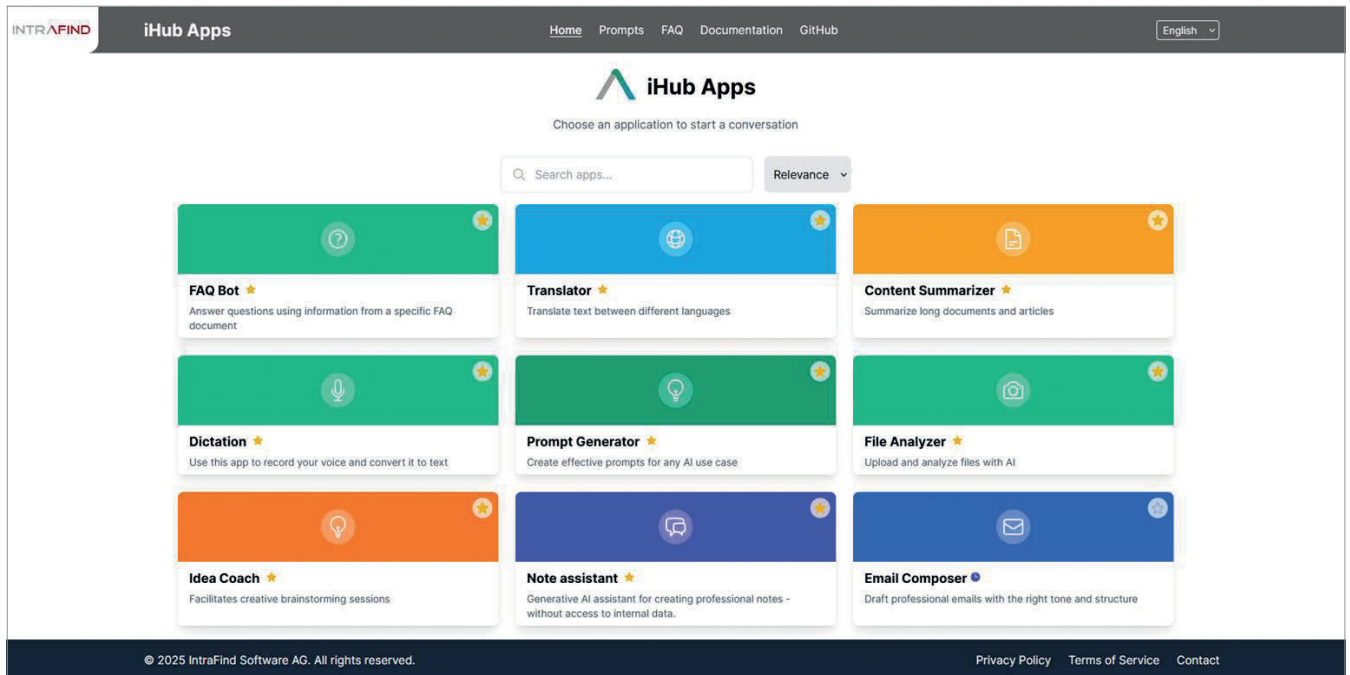

With iFinder, iAssistant and iHub, IntraFind offers a comprehensive solution for unlocking knowledge from internal data, answering questions based on that knowledge, and leveraging general generative AI. These three components complement each other perfectly and together cover all relevant AI use cases for smart information management within the enterprise – without the need for time-consuming in-house development.

Which product for which purpose?

■ Internal data – rights checked
■ Knowledge from the LLM

Product	Core task	Benefits for employees
iFinder	Enterprise Search – finds every file, document and email in your systems in seconds. ► iFinder provides the necessary information.	Where is the information?
iAssistant	RAG-based GenAI chatbot – explains and links internal content. ► iAssistant helps to understand this information and classify it in terms of content.	What's in it and what does it mean for me?
iHub	Micro-app platform – directly leverages the LLM to generate, convert and structure content. ► iHub transforms what has been understood directly into a ready-to-use work product– e.g. an email, a storyboard or a task list.	How do I complete the task now?

- + IntraFind provides the iHub with numerous micro-apps for common tasks. Users simply select an app, e.g. “Compose email”, fill in a few fields, and immediately receive an AI-generated result. Existing micro-apps can be used as a basis, customized as desired, or supplemented with new apps – all in self-service.

What iHub offers

- + Numerous ready-to-use micro-apps, e.g. wording assistance, summarization, translation, meeting assistant, idea coach, analysis of images and files, web chat, and more.
- + No prompt engineering required: preconfigured input forms lead to the desired result.
- + Generative work can be performed on-premises or in the cloud in compliance with the GDPR – security and compliance policies apply as usual.
- + Can be combined with iFinder/iAssistant – or used independently.
- + The iHub is free of charge, ready to use immediately and can be flexibly expanded with your own apps or input masks.
- + No in-house development required – IntraFind provides everything from a single source.

Examples of iHub apps
